A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cloutier et al. US pat. 6,018,397 (hereinafter Cloutier) .

As per claims 1, 9, and 13, Cloutier teaches a method and system for providing print outcome notification (see abstract), col 2, lines 3-16, Fig 2); comprising the steps of: determining which print settings are selected (see col 1, lines 60-64, col 3, lines 33-35); determining whether one or more of the print settings is likely to adversely affect a printing result (see col 3, lines 46-65); providing notification to a user that a selected print setting may result in an adverse printing result (see col 2, lines 8-16, col 3, lines 55-65).

Referring to claims 2-8, 10-12, and 14-17, Cloutier further teaches the print settings are selected comprises determining a print setting that has been selected by the user (see col 1, lines 65-col 2, lines 8); the print settings are selected comprises determining a current default print setting (see col 3, lines 58-60); whether one or more of the print settings is likely to adversely affect a print result comprises determining whether one or more of the print settings is likely to adversely affect at least one of print quality, print speed and consumption of a print device consumable (see col 3, lines 46-51); providing notification comprises facilitating presentation of a warning dialogue box to the user (see col 4, line 1, Fig 2, Ele. 52); providing an indication of the degree of severity of the adverse result (see col 3, lines 60-63); suggesting an alternative print setting that will not likely result in an adverse printing result (see col 3, lines 55-60); automatically adjusting a print setting for the user so as to avoid an adverse printing result (see col 3, lines 35-46).
